CK Project

The Innovative Techno-hub for Integrated Medical Bio-imaging Project, also known as the CK Project, seeks to combine Kyoto University’s integrated science and technology knowledge and excellent clinical research achievements, with the Canon corporation’s technical strengths in product development. Financially supported by MEXT, the project was launched in 2006 and will last for ten years, concluding in 2015. In the long-term, the project aims to propose and realize new imaging-diagnosis techniques, and contribute to the creation of a healthy society by promoting cutting-edge research and development, and fostering talent in medicine and engineering fields.
