

京都大学 大学院 総合生存学館

思修館

MOST

京都大学大学院総合生存学館 第6回国際シンポジウム
Sixth International Symposium on Human Survivability

BRIDGING THE DIVIDE BETWEEN SCIENCE AND CULTURE

The Role of Human Survivability Studies

Symposium Hall, International Science Innovation Building (West Building) 5F, Kyoto University,
7 December 2017

Access: Bldg. #69 on the map of Yoshida campus (click on the link below)

<http://www.kyoto-u.ac.jp/en/access/yoshida/main.html>

The Sixth International Symposium on Human Survivability aims to bring together scholars from humanities, natural and social sciences, who are united by the idea that bridging the gap between science and culture is indispensable for achieving the sustainable development goals (SDGs), as well as for dealing with present and future threats to human survivability.

PROGRAM

Morning	Afternoon
08:30-09:00 Registration of the participants and display of the student posters	13:30-15:00 Session 2: "The Science of Cultural Heritage Preservation" Moderator: Prof. Yosuke Yamashiki, GSAIS, Kyoto University
09:00-10:10 Opening speeches and keynote lecture Moderator: Prof. Kaoru Sekiyama, GSAIS, Kyoto University	13:30-14:05 Presentation: "On the Aging of Wood from Cultural Heritage" - Prof. Shuichi Kawai, GSAIS, Kyoto University
09:00-09:20 Welcome speech - Prof. Kaoru Takara, Dean of GSAIS, Kyoto University	14:05-14:40 Presentation: "In the Search of a Balance between Restoration of Cultural Heritage and Tourism Development" - Dr. Shunsaku Miyagi, Representative Director, Byodoin Temple
09:20-10:00 Keynote lecture: "Representing the Anthropocene" - Dr. John Crowley, Chief of the Management of Social Transformations (MOST) Section, UNESCO	15:00-16:30 Session 3: "The Fusion of Art and Technology and Opportunities to Overcome the Science-Culture Gap" Moderator: Assoc. Prof. Hiroaki Isobe, GSAIS, Kyoto University
10:05-10:10 Explanation about the student posters - Charles Boliko, doctoral candidate at GSAIS, Kyoto University	15:00-15:35 Presentation: "Looking for Japan" - Prof. Naoko Tosa, Academic Center for Computing and Media Studies, Kyoto University
10:30-12:00 Session 1: "Overcoming the Divides in Human Knowledge: Epistemological Paradigms and Cross-Cultural Dialogue" Moderator: Assoc. Prof. Marc-Henri Deroche, GSAIS, Kyoto University	15:35-16:10 Presentation: "Kyoto Art and AI" - Assoc. Prof. Liang Zhao, GSAIS, Kyoto University
10:30-11:05 Presentation: "Significance of the Dialogue between Cultures in the Present Day" - Prof. Masakatsu Fujita, GSAIS, Kyoto University	16:50-17:30 Round-table discussion with all speakers Moderator: Prof. Dimiter Ialnazov, GSAIS, Kyoto University
11:05-11:40 Presentation: "Greater Scientific and Cultural Convergences for Achieving Sustainable Development" - Dr. Pierre Caye, CNRS (National Center for Scientific Research), France	17:30-17:40 Closing remarks Prof. Masao Mitsuyama, GSAIS, Kyoto University

Free of charge, advance registration is required (until 30 November 2017)
Please register online at the following web site: <http://www.gsais.kyoto-u.ac.jp/symposium2017/reg/>

■ Organizer:
Graduate School of Advanced Integrated Studies in Human Survivability (GSAIS/Shishukan), Kyoto University
<http://www.gsais.kyoto-u.ac.jp/>
<http://www.gsais.kyoto-u.ac.jp/en-top/>

■ The Web Site of the Symposium
<http://www.gsais.kyoto-u.ac.jp/symposium2017/>

