

ASEAN JAPAN

Southeast Asian Periodicals Database

For area studies, periodical publications such as newspapers and journals are essential and valuable as primary sources which reflect the society and the era in the region. However, since their format is not designed for long-term preservation, these publications are in danger of deterioration and disposal in Southeast Asian countries or even in Japan. Our purpose is to create a system that allows librarians and researchers to share regional research materials beyond national and organizational frameworks. For the purposes of sharing information for Southeast Asian studies and preserving periodical publications in next 100 years, we would like to propose the three suggestions: 1) sharing information, 2) preserving original materials, and 3) sharing resources.

The 2nd

International Workshop

Collaborative Practice for Establishing a Base of Academic Information between Japan and the Three Countries in Indochina

— Towards Sharing the Information Resources of Area Studies for Southeast Asia —

2019, 9/17-18

Venue

The Institute of Social Sciences Information (ISSI),
Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences (VASS), Hanoi, Vietnam

Workshop 1 Day 1 (9/17)

Bibliographical Control and Meta Data Construction specified MARC21

Workshop 2 Day 1 (9/17)

Operation and Use of MARC21 Database and its Security Guideline

Workshop 3 Day 2 (9/18)

Material Preservation and Construction of Digital Archives

Symposium Day 2 (9/18)

Towards Sharing the Information Resources of Area Studies for Southeast Asia

[ Information ]
81-(0)989-084-032 | phanhuyenissi@gmail.com
81-(0)75-753-7347 | onomkk@cseas.kyoto-u.ac.jp
81-(0)75-753-9603 | kamiya.tosirou.3m@kyoto-u.ac.jp

This international workshop is co-hosted by the Center for Southeast Asian Studies of Kyoto University, and the Institute of Social Information of the Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences, sponsored by Kyoto University President's Discretionary Spending Program (2019), JSPS Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (B) 'Study of Publishing Trends in Three Indochina Countries Using a Serials Database' (Grant Number: 17H01834), and JSPS Grant-in-Aid for Challenging Exploratory Research 'Historical Study for a Diffusion of Western Bookbinding Techniques to Japan: Establishing a Foundation for Preserving Western Bookbindings' (Grant Number: 16K12543).

