The Japanese tea ceremony workshop

茶の湯

Venue

Kanjoan 緩徐庵

"Kanjoan" is a small tea room, located in an old wooden house in Kyoto city's northwest. The house was originally built in the late 1920s and was carefully renovated. The Japanese word "kanjoan" means "the hut in which to be at ease and free of concerns". The house has also a second, bigger tea room called "Aikiken". The name of this room means "to join the seasons". Here people from all walks of life come together to create a living art form.
