

“When I go to the administration office for advice,
I don’t know who I should speak to or what to ask.”

“It’s difficult to go and consult with the administrative staff.”

“When I spoke to the administrative staff about the use of research funds, they explained things clearly and were very helpful.”

(Opinions from early-career researchers during the revolving campaign)

Welcome to Our Office

Please feel free to talk to our staff if you have any concerns—no matter how small.

A revolving campaign to eradicate fraudulent research fund use will visit selected faculties and departments again this year.